IN THE BEGINNING

The Watcher And The Rain

Quiet.

Listen to the hush
of brooding silence
before the storm.

The rain is coming.
See the tops of trees

begin to sway —
green brushes swirling paint
upon a leaden canvas.

Nature scurries home for shelter.

Softly now —

then louder.

Feel it in your fingertips.

The rain is coming!

Droplets,
falling here,
and there —

Splashing in the streams

Pace quickening, stabbing
at the leaves and grass

Turrents now and sweeping up the street —

drenching the wind-swept hair —

Closing the eyes, battering the cheeks, scattering and splattering
against the parted lips —

Kissing also the tree-tops, writhing and twisting in damp delight.

Transfusing power to the swollen streams.

Scream across the countryside,
howling through clenched teeth.

Sweeping sheets of water before it.

Thunder crackling, sharply darting resounding, bounding against the clouds

booming as the lightning eats its way across a blackened sky,

lighting up the features of the face —

unheeding, brazen against the gale — undaunted, teeth bared against the flood until the streams have ravished their banks and sated, withered by their own rage,

fall back upon themselves.

And trees, spent from their love-making,
sigh and breath their wet contentment.

The rain is passing,
quickly going.

softer winds chase

the last few drops,

and plaintive tears

run down the cheeks

of the watcher.

All is —

Quiet.

In The Beginning

In the beginning
We stood apart
With neither love nor hate
To bind us together.

In the beginning
We forgot to live,
We only existed
For yesterday and tomorrow.

In the beginning
You turned from me
And I turned from you
And we laughed at each other.

In the beginning
I thought you were different
And you thought I was strange
And we feared one another.

In the beginning
You smiled at the sky
And I touched it
And we were united as one.

In the beginning
You were the land,
And I was the sea,
And together we made a world.

Innocence

Dark and sad, the clouds hang low,
Trying to tell me of their great loss.
Dried out, with the ground taking their pride.
But the earth is greedy and wants it all.
Is life this mean to the innocent?

Small and jumping from leaf to grass,
The rays are pulled in to give them strength.
Taking away the beams of his life
To give themselves life but with certain death.
Is life this mean to the innocent?

Is there no time to rest,
To take a look at what we are doing;
God help us! We know not
We are innocent of life.

—Shari Embler

Prelude

In the beginning was a choice:
To be damned in black or to be Praised in white; yet to us was
This choice given and not given.

For who did cry aloud from his mother's womb "I shall be white" or to overcome in the ebony way.
The simple mind sees not the way
That colors do not make a soul,
But mixtures of the good and Bad in mankind all do make
From black and white a vari-colored rainbow.

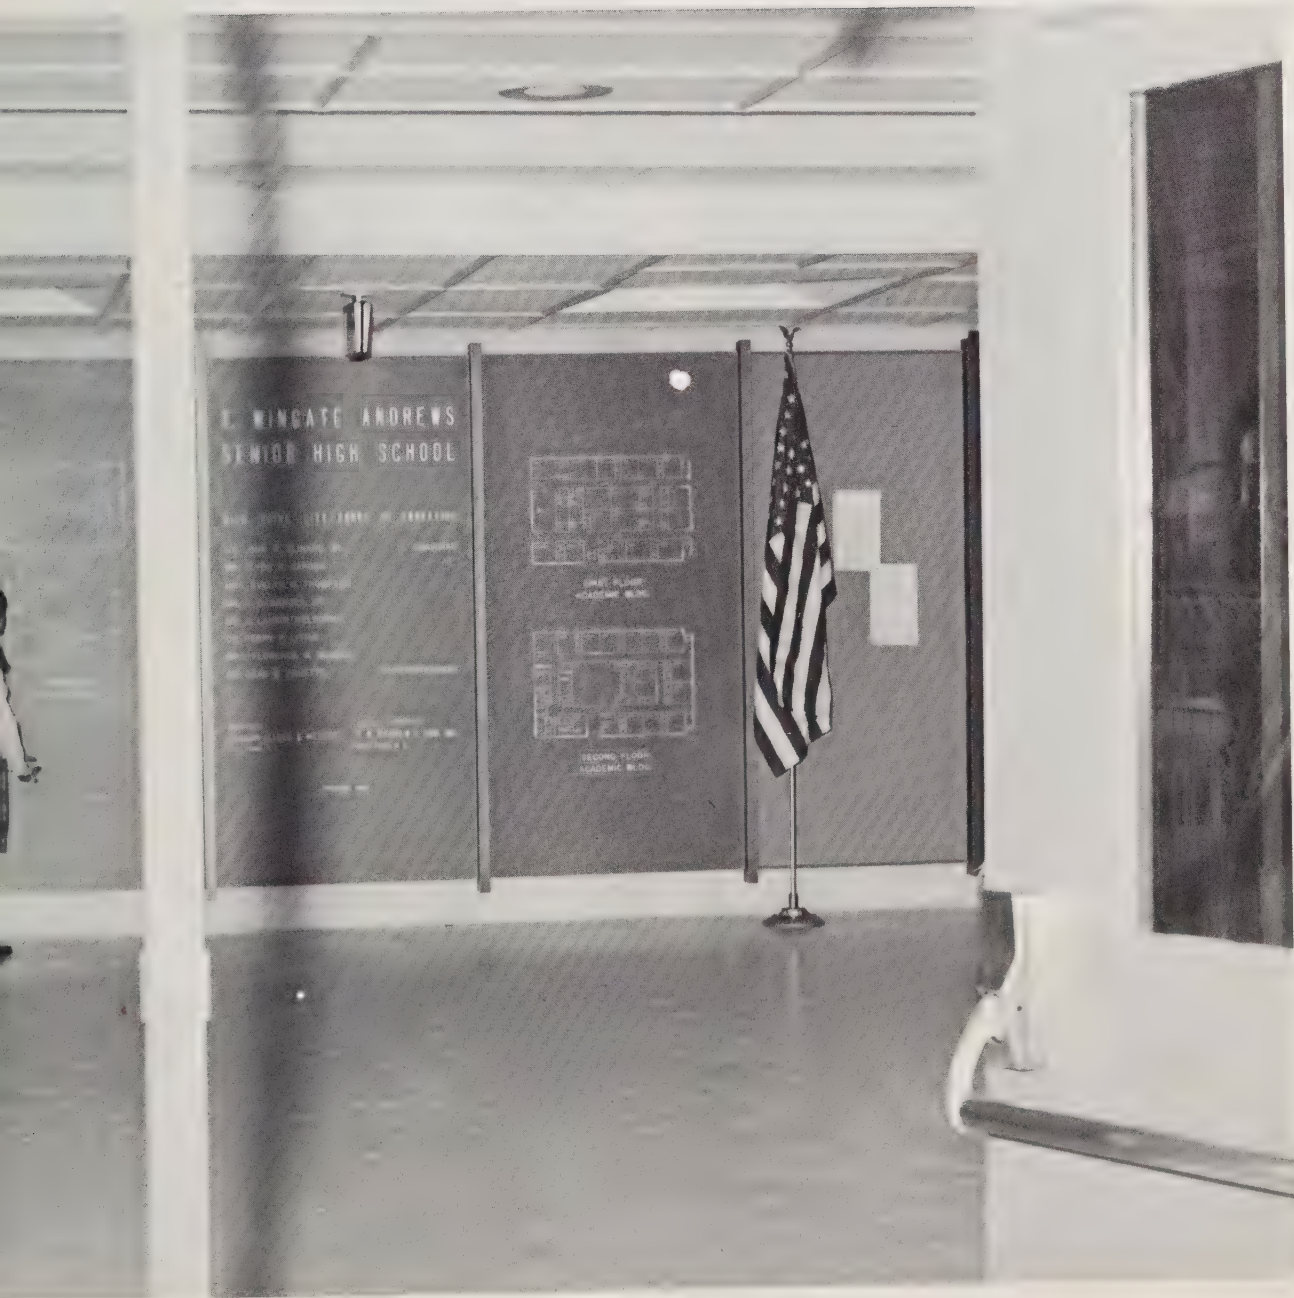

In that first moment of creation
Did God close his eyes and shout to the sun for its spectrum to betray each man in its violent color.
Such a choice to begin, to be born in agony and sorrow to live like one man made of millions.

Each man white walks darkly through life while the dark one too seeks light. Share the darkness and light, Oh man, for thou hast been born to share in brothers' sin alike and to reap the whiteness of pleasure, joy, and sorrow.

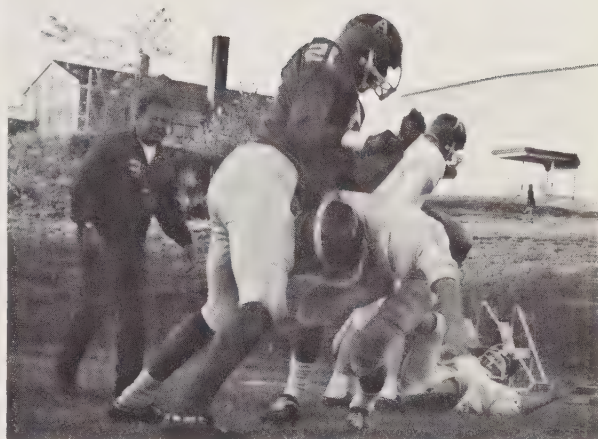

Each meets life on equal terms
Because he is man, a man born
Of choice, of life.

Karen McConkey

Dark Existence
Deep below the city –
In the black and gloomy caverns
Lightless as death
With the tomb-hugh swallowing all
Save the distant echoes
Of droplets tick-tocking into a scum-fed pool
In some forgotten passageway,
A rat licks the sweat
From cold concrete
And scurries off to meet his love,
His feet pattering the pulse of life
And dark existence –
A mile deep in the cool earth.
Bev Horlick

Oyster Pearls

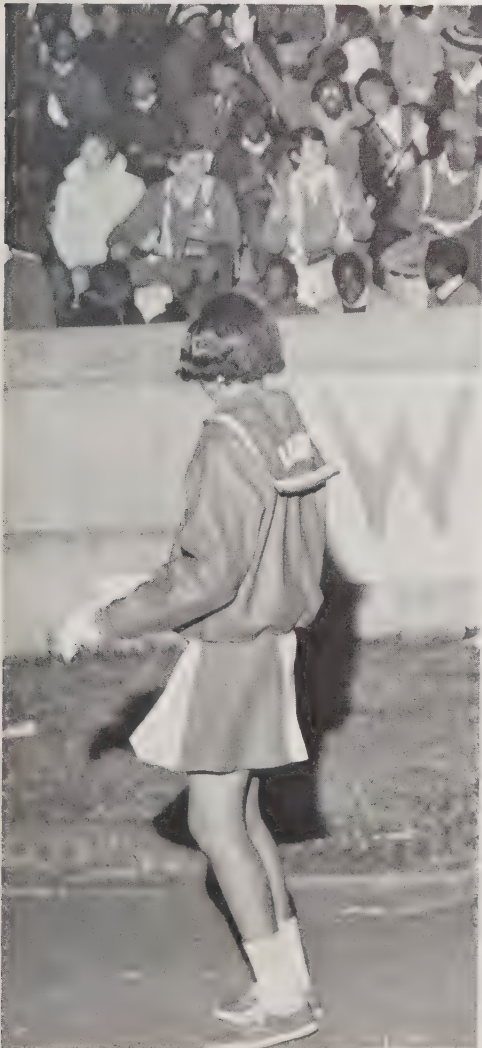

Unlike the card-castles built in
Our childish games,
We now enter into slabs of cement
Which, for a while, shall envelope
Our lives as an oyster closes upon
A tiny grain of sand.
We shall work together, irritating
And helping one another, until the Threads of our knowledge encase
A beauty so blinding that the World will look on us in awe,
And from the shell will emerge our
Pearls of learning, some unique, all Unforgettable!

Dean and Secretaries Assist Students and School

Andrews was very fortunate in its first year to have Mr. John Russell as dean. He proved to be invaluable in the fields of discipline and attendance, two of his main duties. Mr. Russell also served as a mediator in many students' problems. Working with Mr. Burford, he accomplished much in the first, and perhaps the most important, year by establishing a firm foundation to be built on throughout the years of our school.

Our secretaries, Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Leak, worked very hard all year to clear up the many problems of a new school. They had numerous duties to perform. Mrs. Freeman did mostly general secretarial work. Mrs. Leak handled the principal's monthly reports, payrolls, finance, and bookkeeping. With their help Andrews progressed very much.

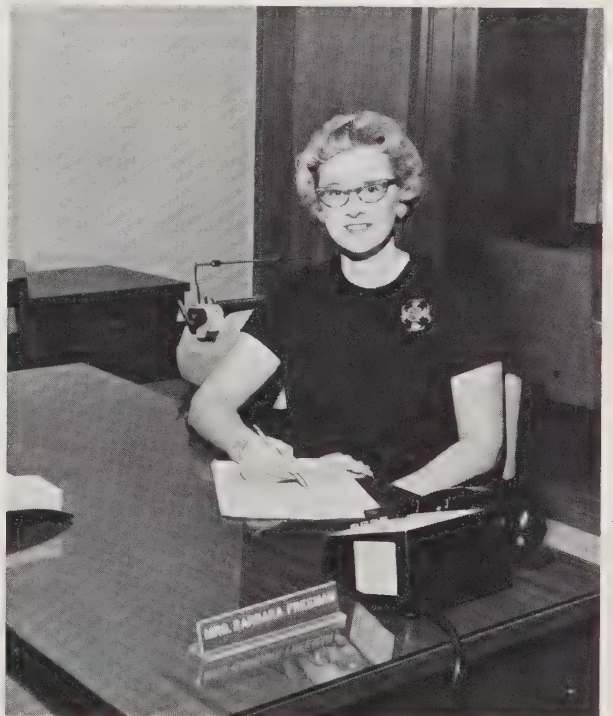

Mr. John Russell helped to establish a firm foundation in discipline and attendance.

Mrs. Vernell Leak proved invaluable in the financial aspect at T.W.A.

Mrs. Barbara Freeman helps clear up many of our school's problems.

Guidance Counselors Lend a Helping Hand

Mr. Robert Bowman carefully analyzes student records.

Mr. Herb Hipps' help and friendship along with counseling are needed in troubled times.

Our guidance counselors, Mr. Bowman and Mr. Hipps, have proven to be of immense value to many Andrews' students this year. They were always ready to listen and discuss any problems. Students were never afraid to talk to them because their information was invaluable in setting them on the right paths. Mr. Bowman and Mr. Hipps were never too busy to stop their work to help some puzzled student, whether it took five minutes or an hour.

The guidance counselors guided students in decisions ranging from trivial questions to important problems, and they offered understanding and compassion in all situations.

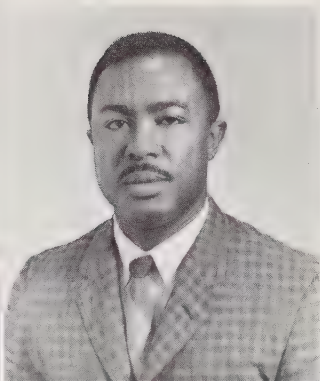

They were in charge of several college admissions tests. They also helped students with registration for next year's classes.

Mr. Bowman always ready to help students onto the right path.

Chorus Makes Terrific Start

The Andrews chorus, under the direction of Miss Browne, made a terrific start in the exploration of new fields of music in its first year. The members of the chorus have broadened their music studies of varied composers in different periods of music history.

These students worked all year, especially in concentrating a major and united effort with the orchestra to produce the program "The Messiah," which was given at Northeast Junior High auditorium, December 15, 1968.

The members have shown talent and fortitude in establishing a chorus that will set a good example for all choruses to come.

CHORUS OFFICERS: Sherilyn Cauble, President; Brenda Hollingsworth, Vice President; Rita Mabe, Secretary; Betty Cathey, Treasurer.

Miss McIntyre stimulates students into reading by her unusual and catchy bulletin boards.

The library, the center of the school, has proven to be indispensable to teachers and students. The largest most attractive in the city school system, the library had an outstanding collection of learning materials, from filmstrips to tapes and recordings. A variety of subject matter was contained in the form of books, newspapers, and magazines. Many students found in the library a quiet place to study, think or read their favorite books. Certainly our library contributed to the beauty and educational aspects of T.W. Andrews.

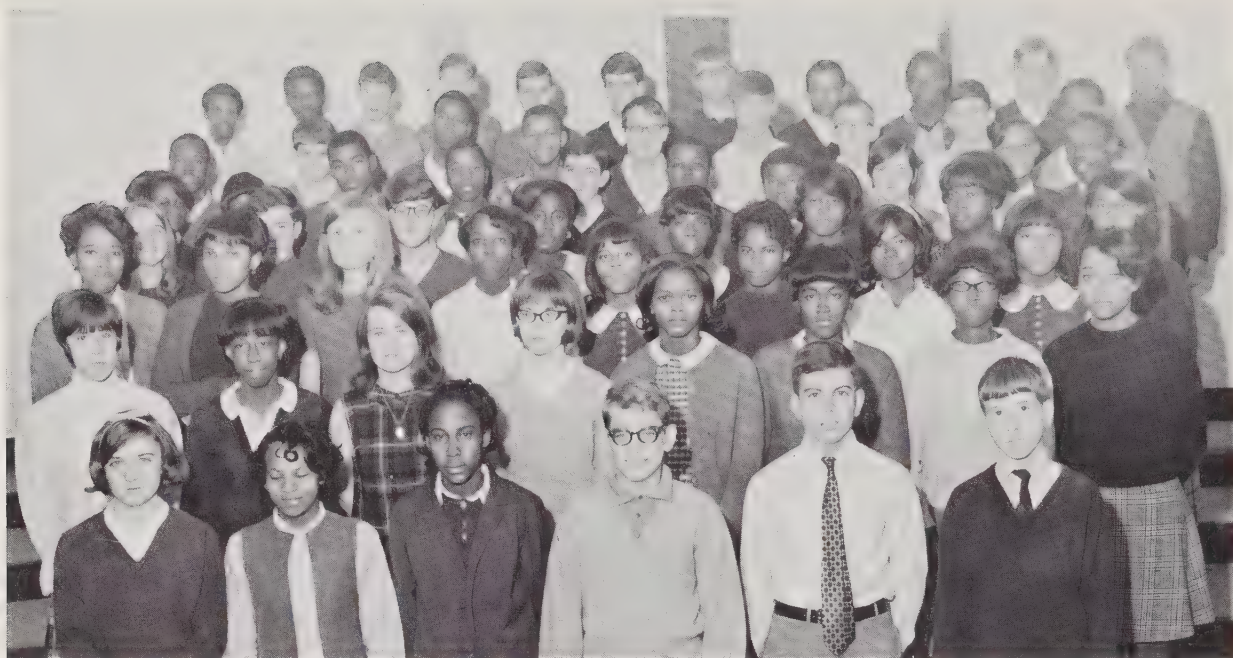

Where Solitude is Found

Miss Eaves worked diligently for library improvement.

The librarian, Miss McIntyre, assisted with students' research work.

Band Works to Promote School Spirit

... "And the band played on."

The T. Wingate Andrews Band, under the direction of Mr. J.Y. Bell, added much to the over-all spirit of the school this year. Although the opening of school found them short of equipment and uniforms, the band donned their red sweaters and proved that uniforms are not the only element to a successful band.

Student participation was very evident in the band. The Student Band Council, with Mr. Bell's help, set up rules and regulations for the members to follow. Larry Wright was student director and helped Mr. Bell also.

Besides the regular band, Mr. Bell organized a Pep Band and a Stage Band for any members who wanted to participate.

Orchestra Promotes Musical Appreciation

ALLSTATE ORCHESTRA REPRESENTATIVES: Ricky Lowe, Lynn Morris, Frances Lamar, Karen Hipps, Carl Wright.

The orchestra, directed by Mrs. Fouts, is established to further the development of the worlds of music, both classical and contemporary.

The members of this organization participated in their first presentation of "The Messiah," in cooperation with the chorus on December 15, 1968.

Three members of the orchestra were sent to Governor's School in 1968 and five students attended the All State Orchestra Clinic. Several of the orchestra members helped to supplement the High Point Symphony.

Seniors Leave Looking Back with Pride on Their Last Year

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Standing: Candice Bodie, Treasurer; Gertha Sawyers, Secretary. Seated: Darrell Amaker, President; Ken Osteen, Vice President.

Chad Miller intensely observes a lab experiment.

As graduation day quickly approached, the seniors looked back on their first and last year at Andrews. It was a mixed up, unorganized, but fun year. They made many new friends and had to adjust themselves to many different situations. It was a good experience for them and it helped them to be better prepared to face the world.

They experienced the pride in their new school, the pride of a winning football and basketball team and most of all the pride of saying, "I go to Andrews." They felt the thrill of receiving their long awaited class rings and at last witnessing the first game in the new gym.

The seniors will always remember their last year at Andrews. Along with the good times and the bad times, it has helped them to become more mature in their outlook towards life.

JUNIOR CLASS

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Standing: Carla Vernon, Secretary; Janet Church, Treasurer. Seated: Jeff Carr, President; Miriam Corn, Vice President.

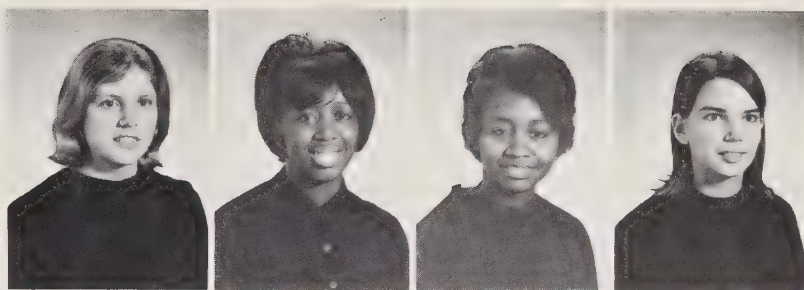

With only one more year to go, juniors began to realize just how quickly their senior high school lives were slipping past them. It was with mixed emotions that they faced the task of leaving childhood behind and entering the vast world of adulthood.

To help juniors during that trying time, the school offered a chance for them to become acquainted with different job opportunities through Career Day. Another aid to the future was College Day, when all juniors had the chance to talk with representatives from the different colleges in North Carolina.

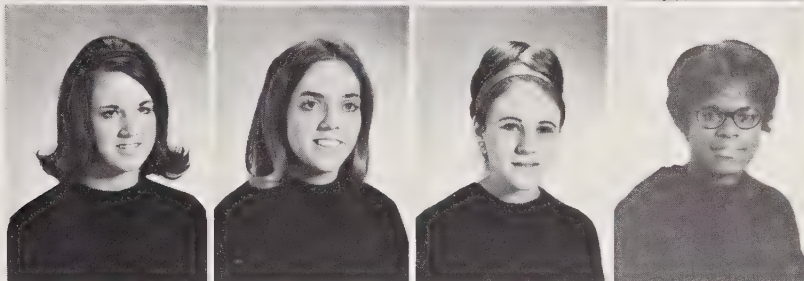

Other junior activities included planning for the Junior-Senior Prom, the making of the junior class float in the fall, the preparation for college boards, and the long-awaited arrival of class rings.

A feeling of apprehension and uncertainty swept over the sophomores as they entered a new school. New buildings, new teachers, and new friends confronted them. They were not alone in being unfamiliar with the locations of rooms, since Andrews had only recently opened.

Sophomores helped form the foundations of service clubs and other organizations. Their successful Junior Varsity teams proved that they were a great addition to the school. Since their year as sophomores has finished, they eagerly look toward their next two years at Andrews.

Books symbolize sophomore studies.

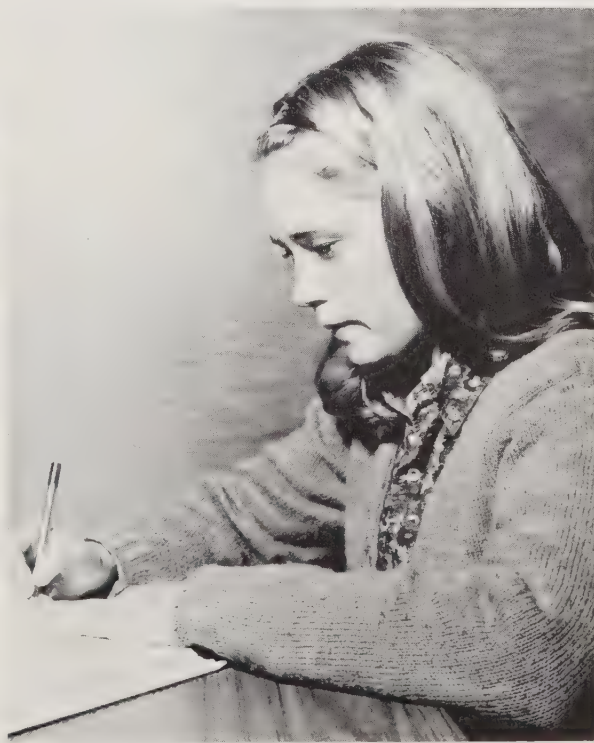

Jean Boyles, a sophomore, has won many awards in skating.

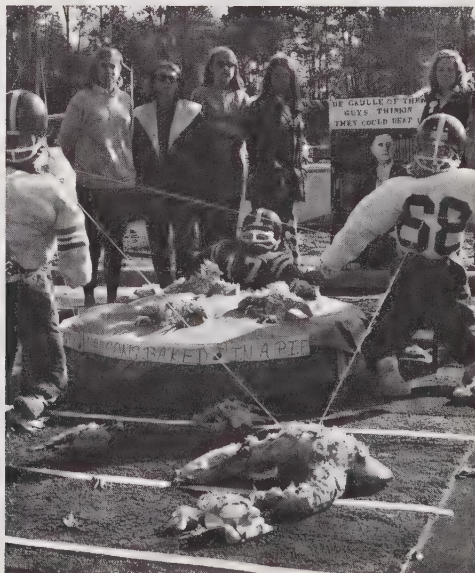

Sophomores soon find out the true meaning of "study."

Students enjoy the use of Andrews' library.

. . . Reverie Staff Presents

Reverie staff takes time out to inspect Red Raider bus.

Although the yearbook staff got off to a late start, the energetic members worked overtime to get the annual out on time. The staff tried to preserve the highlights and memories of T. Wingate Andrews' first year.

Most of the first semester was devoted to organizing the staff and soliciting advertisements from High Point businessmen. When the staff returned from the Christmas holidays, fresh and ready to begin, the real work started. Some members wrote copy, proofread, typed it many times, and finally arranged the copy for the yearbook. Others were busy sorting pictures and naming the many students at Andrews High.

The yearbook staff was under the direction of Miss Brookbank and Mrs. Winklosky.

Student Council Executive Board Provides

The Executive Board acted as a link between the faculty and the student body. It was a means of communication and provided a framework wherein students were given the opportunity to learn and practice government and citizenship.

The Executive Board sponsored many activities throughout the year. Among these activities were Student Congress, which gave students an opportunity to discuss their problems, and Inter-Club Council, which coordinated all club activities.

The Executive Board compiled a handbook, operated the school store, and represented the school at conventions.

Their able and willing advisors were Miss Welch and Mrs. Jones.

Nash, Lightner, Newsome, Brown, Lassiter, Corn. Row 4—Weatherspoon, Lawson, Cameron, Osteen, Pressley, Keith.

Opportunity and Coordinates Activities

Deep at work some executive board members plan for future school projects.

Bundy, Dye. Row 3—Church, Lightner, Wright, Bodie, Mebane. Row 4—Wright, Amaker, Leach, Mrs. Jones.

The National Forensic League was devoted to developing sensible and responsible attitudes in its members by sharpening their speaking abilities.

The NFL promoted competition among individuals and schools. It was the only academic competition on the high school level.

The members competed in individual speaking and debate tournaments at local schools, at Wake Forest University, and in Columbia, S. C.

Different divisions of competition included debate, dramatic interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, and oratory. The group received many certificates of excellence for speakers in all four of these categories. Their first trophies were won at the Furniture City Invitational Tournament.

The advisor for the T. Wingate Andrews National Forensic League was Mrs. Dannenberg.

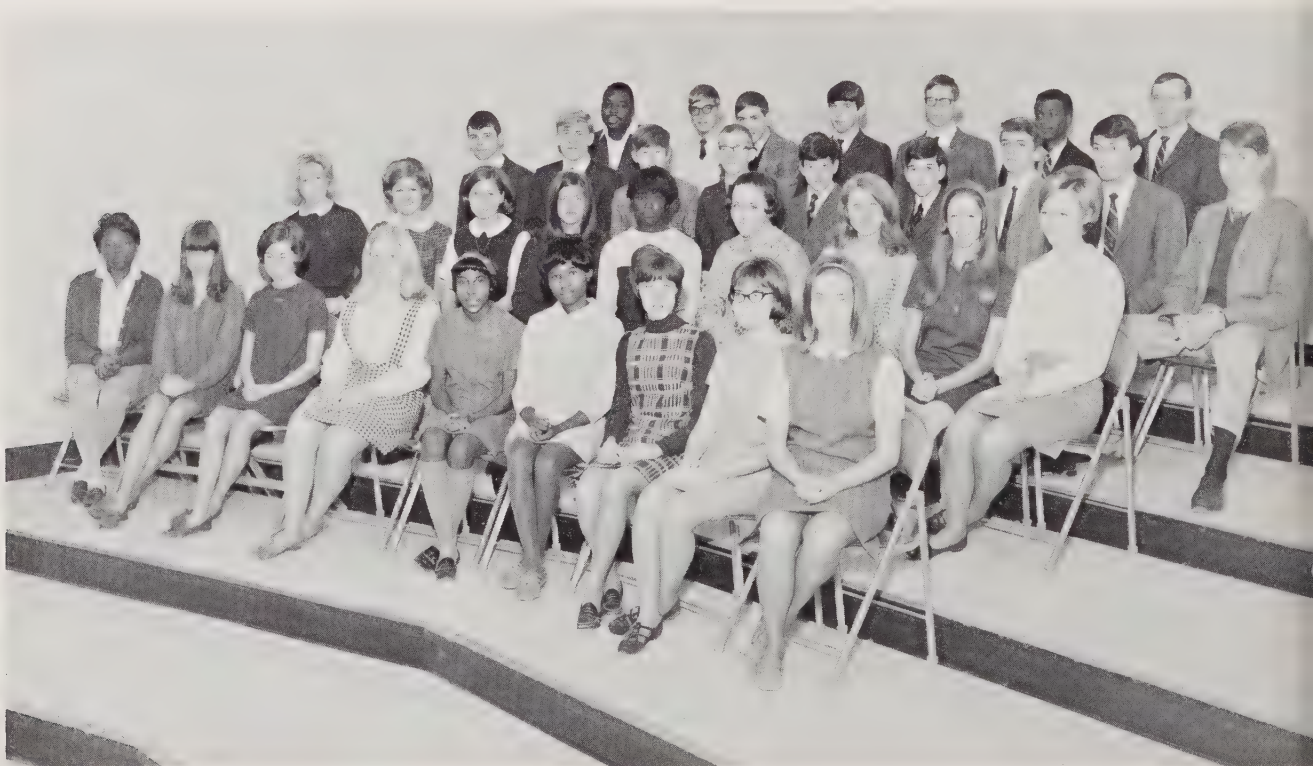

NFL OFFICERS: Row 1—Chad Miller, President; Linda Christensen, Vice President; Lyn Bundy, Corresponding Secretary. Row 2—Debbie Clinard, Recording Secretary; Chris Hammond, Activities Leader; Floyd Weatherspoon, Treasurer.

Debating is much harder than one would think, as these students have found out.

Extra research is needed by Atlanta debaters Linda, Steve, Lyn, Carl, Debbie, Ben, and Floyd.

Youth Council Represents Youth

YOUTH COUNCIL: Row 1—Anthony, Church, Church, Foster. Row 2—Flowers, Gainey, Martin, Gurley, Thacker. Row 3—Corn, Cameron, Thompson, Dye.

Youth Council members Kathy Gurley and Janet Church are working to provide attractive bulletin boards.

Meeting one Thursday out of every month, the Youth Council coordinates youth activities throughout the city. It is representative of all four area high schools.

It promotes activities such as Battles of the Bands, Talent Shows, Hospital Parties, and Youth Week. The Youth Council entered a float in the Christmas Parade and decorated Christmas trees in front of the Astor Dowdy Towers and the City-County Building.

Several members of the Youth Council attended the Youth Council of North Carolina State Convention held in Asheville.

The Youth Council was sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department. Its advisor was Brenda Hoover.

Juniorettes Sell Class Graduation Pins

The Juniors Club, advised by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Kemp, engaged in many worthwhile projects. Some of the projects included a bake sale, collecting money for muscular dystrophy, and washing blackboards for all the teachers. A major project for the Juniors was the selling of class graduation pins, which gave the school's initials attached to the student's year of graduation.

The Juniors made plans to attend a state-wide summer convention called "Jamboree." An award was given to the girl who showed the most interest in the club's activities and who contributed the most.

The High Point Junior Woman's Club sponsored the Juniors. In addition to the Juniors' regular meetings each second and fourth Thursday of every month, they also attended open meetings of the Junior Woman's Club.

Forum Tells of

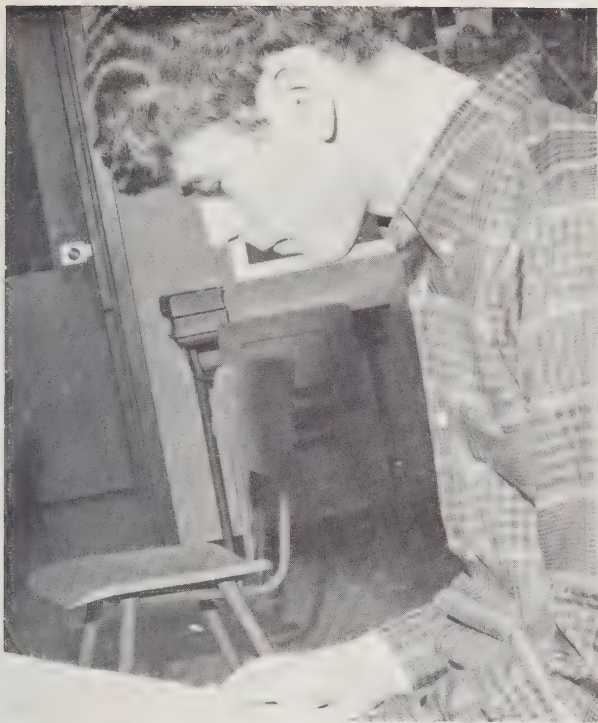

NEWSPAPER EDITORS: Linda Williams, Editor; Tim Pegram, Co-Editor; Floyd Weatherspoon, Business Manager; Kay Cumby, Secretary.

The purpose of any good newspaper is to inform the students of facts, ideals, and activities around the school. This was the goal of The Forum.

In order for the students to have an up-to-date view of school happenings, the Forum staff put much time, work, and effort into publishing the newspaper. It was written to present to the students of T.W.A. the activities of their school.

Students interested in newspaper work were given a chance to begin their career in journalism under the leadership of their advisor, Mr. Samet.

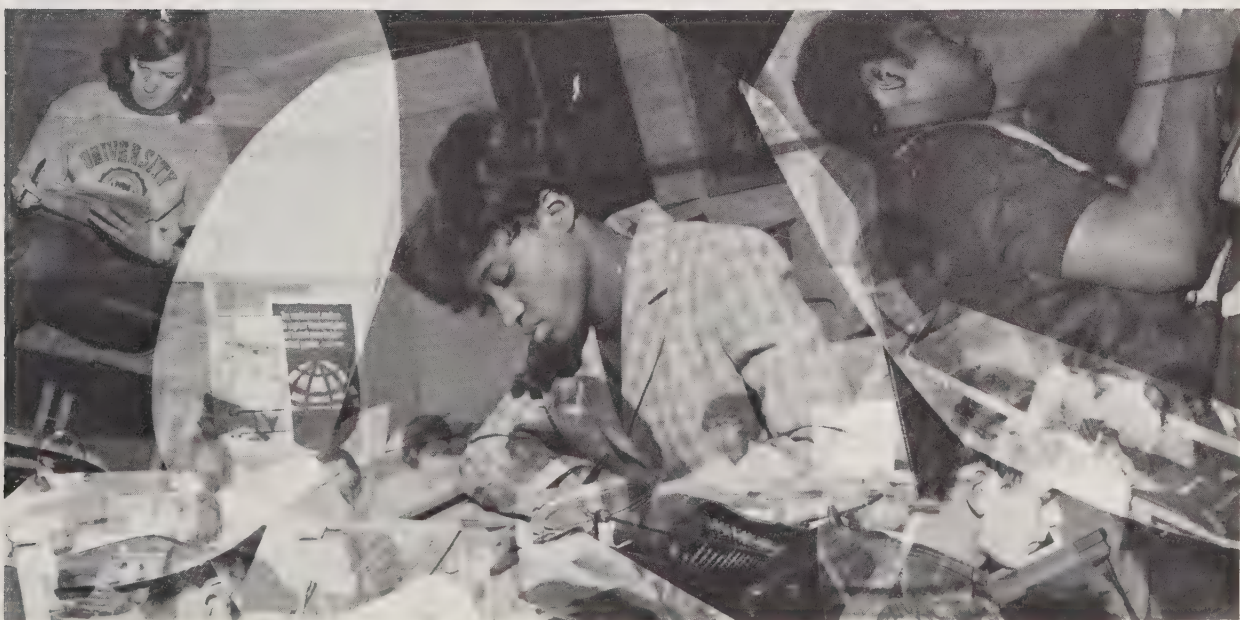

Tim Pegram, co-editor, proofreads carefully.

JCL Passes on Torch of Classical Culture

Meeting during first period, the JCL sought to broaden interests and views in Latin with the help of their advisor, Mrs. Phillips.

JCL activities included a Roman Saturnalia, which was celebrated at Christmas; the celebration of Latin week in the month of April; and attending the State Junior Classical League Convention in the spring.

First place was awarded the Andrews's JCL in the first Fall Festival float competition.

JCL OFFICERS: Seated—John Wells, Dux; Miriam Albertson, Consul. Standing—Carole Edwards, Scriptor; Steve Mays, Censor; Susan Cummings, Quaestor.

NHS Members Stimulate Desire for Leadership

To create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire for service, and to promote worthy leadership and character in students were the purposes of the National Honor Society of Andrews.

Several members of the NHS traveled to Burlington on March 27th, 28th, and 29th, for a convention sponsored by all of the North Carolina chapters.

The members met on Sundays under the supervision of Mr. Clodfelter.

NHS MEMBERS: Seated: Delcine Leach, Cheryl Dye, Roberta Alston, Minnie Flowers. Standing: Linda Wiley, Mr. Clodfelter.

Spanish Club Explores Spanish Customs

SPANISH CLUB: Row 1—Balem, Ledwell, Martin, Gurley, Hiatt, Gibson, Lassiter, Mebane. Row 2—Williams, Johnston, Glenn, Beasley, Kennedy, Hayworth, Sappenfield, Malpass, Scott. Row 3—Collier, Sims, Crawford, Morgan, Hayworth, SPANISH CLUB OFFICERS: Row 1—Kathy Sappenfield, President; Hazel Balem, Vice-President; Lynn Beaslie, Secretary. Row 2—Dianne Scott, Social Director; Connie Martin, Treasurer; Phylliss Mebane, Assistant Treasurer; Debra Scott, Assistant Secretary.

Having its meetings once a month, the Spanish Club's purpose was to learn and understand the customs of various Spanish-speaking countries. At the meetings Spanish dances were attempted, and several persons spoke to the club on Mexico and Cuba.

The Spanish Club had its own newspaper, El Papelito, which means "little paper." It was distributed once a month without cost to students. Several of the Spanish Club members traveled to Greensboro to see "Esta Noche . . . Teatro," a play given in Spanish. The Spanish Club celebrated Christmas with the breaking of the Pinata. The advisor was Mrs. Hernandez.

DECA Students Develop Skills

DECA: Row 1—McDowell, Owens, Kestler, Mabe, Kelly, Stevenson. Row 2—Banks, Havener, Atkinson, Walker, Hawks. Row 3—Micky, Thomas, Bennett, McDowell, Mrs. Frye.

DECA members worked hard to promote better business relations.

The Distributive Education Club of Andrews High School was organized to stimulate professional growth of students planning to enter the field of distribution and marketing. It also developed respect for education in the vocational area and promoted understanding and appreciation of the responsibilities of citizenship in our free competitive system. It helped students develop skills in human relations and promoted better public relations.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Frye, the DECA members participated in district and state leadership conferences. District contests included public speaking, advertising, sales presentation, and job interview. The members sold linen towel calendars for a fund-raising project. A banquet was held for employers late in the spring.

DECA was an affiliate of North Carolina and National Distributive Clubs of America.

FHA Sends Cookies to Soldiers in Vietnam

FHA MEMBERS: Row 1—Leach, Reed, Parris, Sawyers, Small, Wiley. Row 2—Nash, Kestler, Helms, Whittington, Schaffer, Bruner, Hobbs. Row 3—Sheets, Patterson, Leggett, Collier, Spencer, Thomason, Hurly. Row 4—Miss Bostic, Miss Tilly, Bruton, Edwards, Little, Wrenn, McKibben.

The Future Homemakers of America organized an enterprising chapter at Andrews this year.

Meeting the first Thursday in each month, the FHA followed nationally set goals in holding candy and bake sales, sending cookies to our servicemen in Vietnam, and frequently visiting the Mills Home Orphanage at Thomasville. The members strived to maintain the goals that were recognized by this nationwide organization. To promote international goodwill was one of the purposes that the FHA worked to establish and uphold.

During our Fall Festival, the FHA won third place for their float which featured a recipe for "Falcon Fry."

Miss Tilly and Mrs. Bostic, the home economics teachers, sponsored the club and were a great help in the organization of the FHA and in its activities.

Junior Civitans: Builders of Good Citizenship

Meeting every Monday, the Junior Civitans discussed projects which were useful to school and community. Their main project of the year was aiding youth, especially helping underprivileged children in all possible ways. They also rendered their services by ushering at home football and basketball games. As a help to Civitan International, their sponsor, the members sold fruitcakes at Christmas.

The goal of the Junior Civitans was to build citizenship in youth. They learned to serve unselfishly their fellow members and community, while building good leadership.

In November, the officers of Junior Civitans attended a convention. Later on in the year, the entire Civitan Club attended the District Convention. The advisors were Mr. Wright and Mr. Rush.

CIVITAN CLUB: Row 1—Amaker, Sexton, Fleeman, Anderson, Williams, Adams, Leckie, Cameron. Row 2—Holland, Wright, McCray, Simpson, Causey, Presley, Lewis, W. Simpson.

Row 3—Ingram, Workman, Horlick, Tuttle, Wade, Osteen. Standing—Mr. Wright, Mr. Rush.

Y-Teens Provide School and Community Services

The main purpose of the Y-Teen organization was to serve their school and community in any way possible. One project the group participated in was providing Fun Books for under-privileged children. They also sold holly at Christmas to make money.

Members attended the World Fellowship Supper, held at the YWCA in October. Several members traveled to Washington, D.C., to participate in the World Fellowship Service.

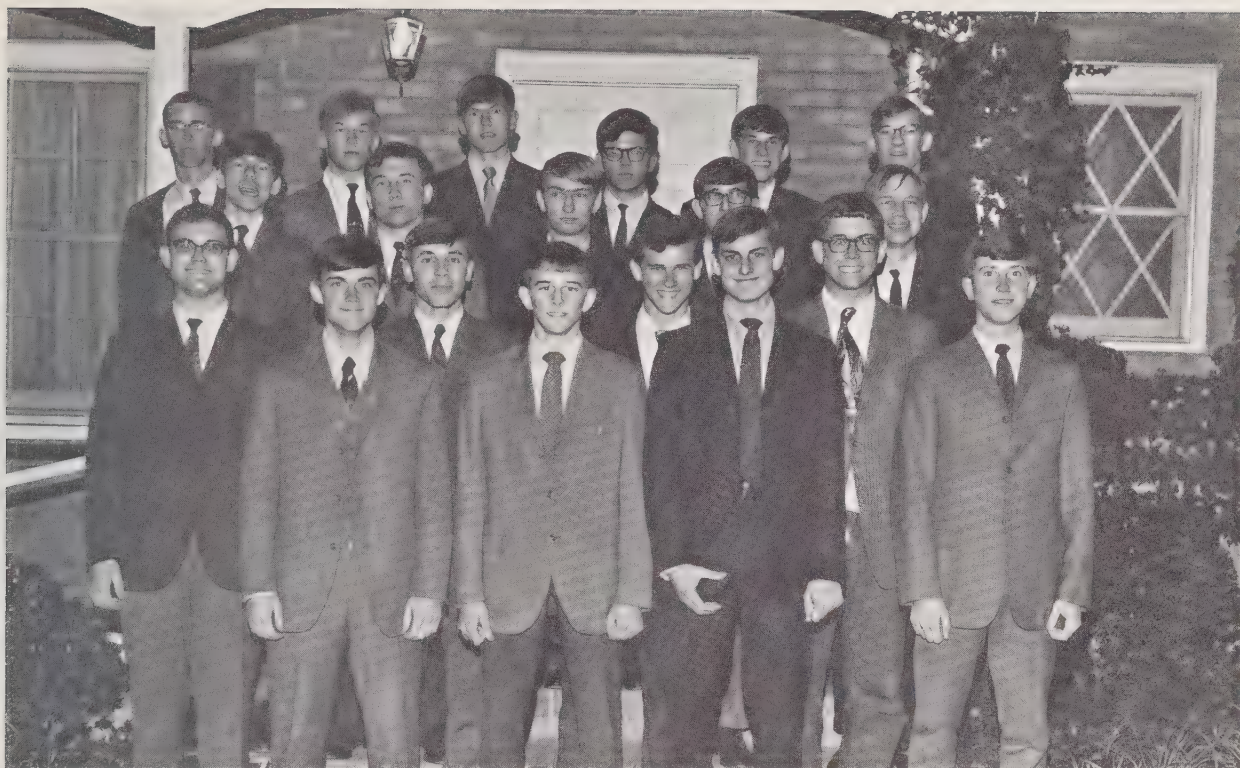

Meetings were held every Monday night at the Young Women's Christian Association, the sponsoring organization. The advisor of the Y-Teens was Mrs. Little.

KEY CLUB MEMBERS: Row 1—Jeff Carr, President; Chuck Ward, Chaplain; Furr, Little. Row 2—Hostler, David Ingold, Secretary, Lyon, Rogers. Row 3—Monroe, Bernard Collie, Vice President; Terry Patterson, Sergeant of Arms; Martin, Boles. Row 4—Thomas, John Wells, Treasurer; Suggs, Beaver, Gorman, Lowe.

Key Club Serves TWA

“O.K. boys, come to order.”

Sponsored by the High Point Kiwanis Club and advised by Mr. Greene and Mr. M. Johnson, the Key Club met every Wednesday to discuss worthwhile school and community projects.

The members sang Christmas carols for the school and ushered for Andrews' ball games. Helping keep the school grounds clean was another of their useful services. Several of the members served the community by collecting money for the Heart Fund.

The Key Club Convention was held in Charleston, S.C. Plans were made to have a member attend Kiwanis International in the summer.

Two members attended a Kiwanis luncheon each week and Kiwanis members attended Key Club meetings regularly. The Kiwanis and Key Clubs jointly held a Christmas supper.

Civinettes Show School Spirit

Seyk, Church. Row 3—Bundy, Cumby, Christensen, Cummings, Albertson, Williams, Edwards, Mebane, Bodie. Row 4—Wright, Dye, Lightner, Wells, Mrs. Hinkle, Miss Pate.

CIVINETTE OFFICERS: Row 1—Ardith Wells, President; Phyllis Mebane, Treasurer. Row 2—Linda Christensen, Secretary. Row 3—Daphne Lightner, Vice President.

Civinettes began this new year with a rousing start. With Christmas just around the corner, the Civinettes vigorously began their sale of fruitcakes and cookies. To show support for the team, the Civinettes served refreshments to the players after the basketball games. In January, the Senior Civitans sponsored a charter banquet for the Jr. Civitans and Civinettes. April 18-20, the District Convention was held for all interested members of the club. Each Tuesday a representative was sent to the Civitan meeting at the Sheraton Hotel.

Though being a school service club, the Civinettes also helped the community. As the year of 1968 and 1969 progressed, Civinettes showed their true leadership and ability with the help of their advisors, Miss Pate and Mrs. Hinkle.

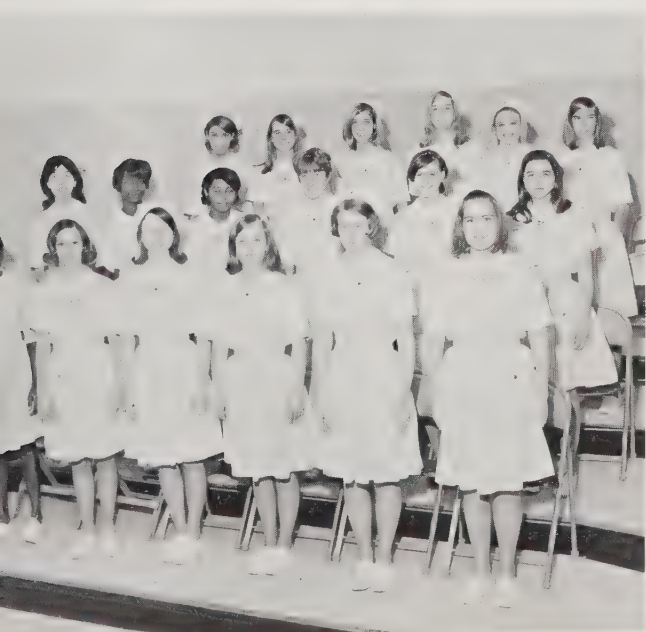

JUNIOR AND SENIOR YOUTH VOLUNTEERS: Row 1—Lester, Wilson, Hammond, Hull, Reed, Mullis. Row 2—Davis, Thibodeau, Stalder, York, Sawyers. Row 3—Bodenhamer, Lamar, Helms, Wrenn, Patterson. Row 4—Cummings, Christensen, Halstead.

Learning From Experience

Learning from experience how to aid and comfort the sick, the Youth Volunteers worked on Saturdays and Sundays. At the hospital, the Youth Volunteers engaged in activities such as making beds, charting temperatures, and discharging patients. Each girl worked four hours a month and during the summer helped at the bloodmobile.

In order to become a Youth Volunteer, a girl attended six hours of lectures on the principles of the Red Cross. Then she was given four hours of on-the-job training at the hospital.

After this training had been completed, the girl was awarded her cap. Earning this cap was the goal, of each girl, who wished to become a Youth Volunteer.

Club Increases Understanding of French Culture

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS: Row 1—Terry Gorman, Vice-President; Suzanne Matthews, President. Row 2—Kim Hedrick, Treasurer; Kathy Corn, Secretary.

The French Club, under the direction of Miss Pate, met every other Tuesday to increase their French background.

The members studied modern French culture and civilization. They had a French exchange student at one meeting to talk with them about his native country.

The French students were able to become more fluent in French, since the club meetings were held in French during the second semester.

A Christmas Tea was held, along with a banquet at the end of the year.

FRENCH CLUB: Row 1—Reed, Fritz, Hollingsworth, Welch, Vernon, Walsh, McConky, Roach, Hedrick, Helms. Row 2—K. Jones, Cooper, Cumby, M. Weatherly, Sharp, Thibodeau, Ball, Metters, McCuiston, Cameron. Row 3—Blue, Ingold, Wright, P.

Weatherly, Leggett, Leckie, Little, Morris, Pendry. Row 4—Matthews, Gorman, Hudson, Corn, Thacker, Hardin, Little, Miss Pate.

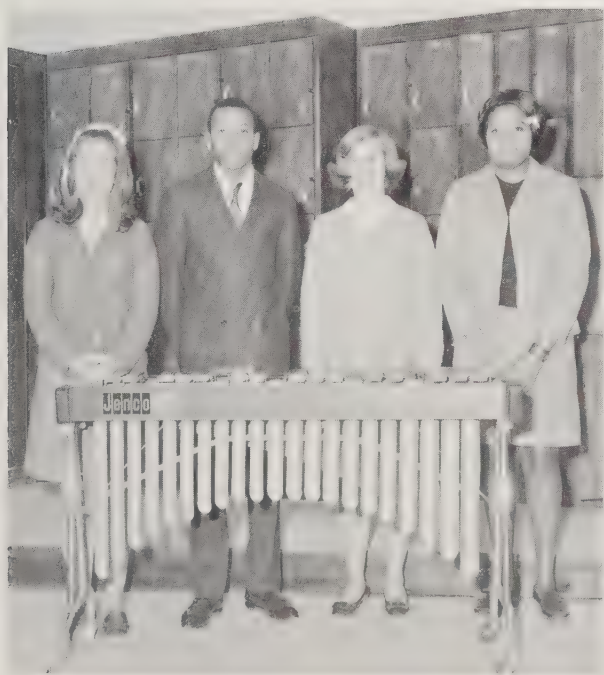

MMM MEMBERS: Row 1—D. Lightner, Cauble, Dye, Newsome, Martin, Keenan, McSwain, Morris, Simms, Scott, Cathey. Row 2—Boyd, Petty, V. Lightner, P. Weatherly, Gibson, Ruderson, Walsh, Hollingsworth, Leach, Mabe, Beazlie, Thacker, Spears, Cassell, Jones. Row 3—M. Weatherly, King,

MMM Widens Opportunities for Musical Expression

The Modern Music Masters of Andrews was formed to help its members gain greater knowledge and to continue their interest in all branches of music. It also provided members with a chance to express their musical abilities in schools, churches, civic organizations, and social service clubs of the community.

The club sponsored a car wash to provide needed club funds. Members were also responsible for the Music Department bulletin boards. They attended concerts by the High Point Symphony and other symphonies.

All members were presented with bronze emblems. Special merit awards went to outstanding MMM members.

The advisor for the club was Miss Mary P. Browne.

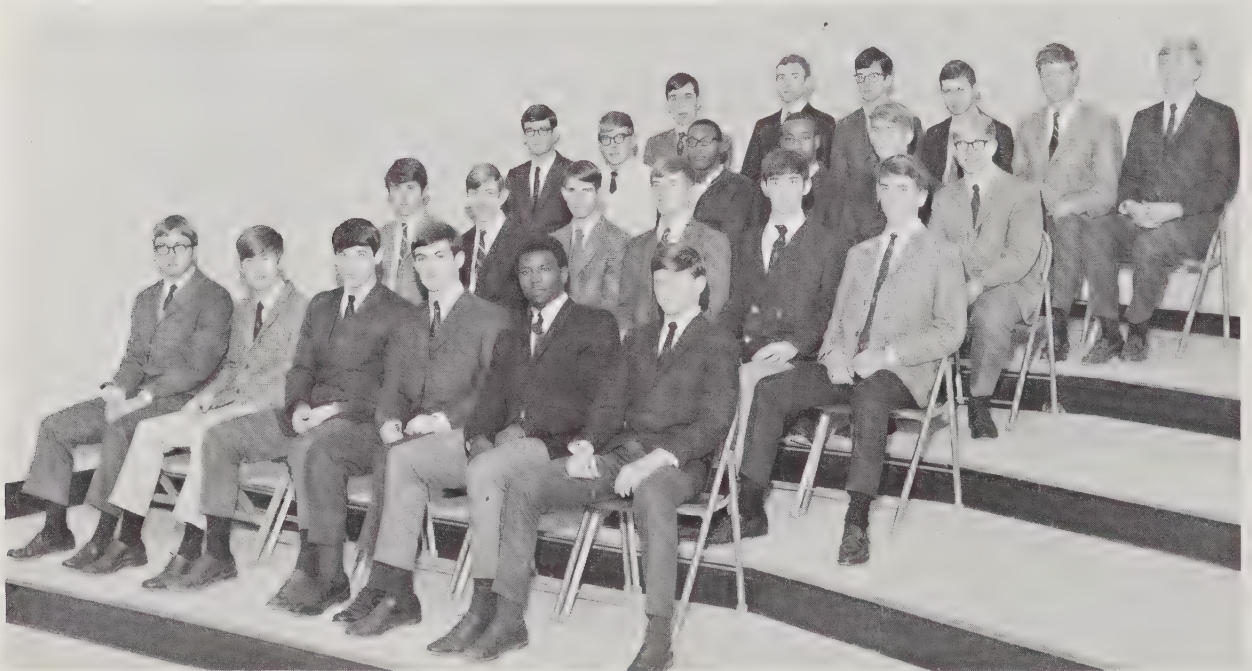

Interact Club Serves School

INTERACT MEMBERS: Row 1—Nixon, Skinner, Frost, Hулender, Spencer, Ritter. Row 2—Brown, Dozier, Lingerfelt, Haywood, Rundo, Moore. Row 3—Draughan, Lawson, Martinson, Scotten, Brockett. Row 4—Lambeth, Cockerham, Fields, Chastain, Miller.

The Interact Club was the first service club to be formed at Andrews High. The Rotary Club of High Point, its parent sponsor, helped a great deal in getting it formed.

Being an internationally formed club, the Interact Club is required to do an international project. This year Interact sent badly needed clothes to Iran.

One of the first services that the Club did for T.W.A. was to provide the parking lot with trash cans. The club participated several times in cleaning the school grounds. Taking care of the school flag was still another service the club performed. In connection with the Rotary Club, the Interact Club helped in serving for their annual barbecue and auction. The club also helped with Career Day.

The advisor was Mr. Howell.

Interact Club dutifully ushers boy out of game.

As one of the duties of the Interact Club, Kevin Moore raises the school flag.

TWA's Varsity team runs down the field to victory.

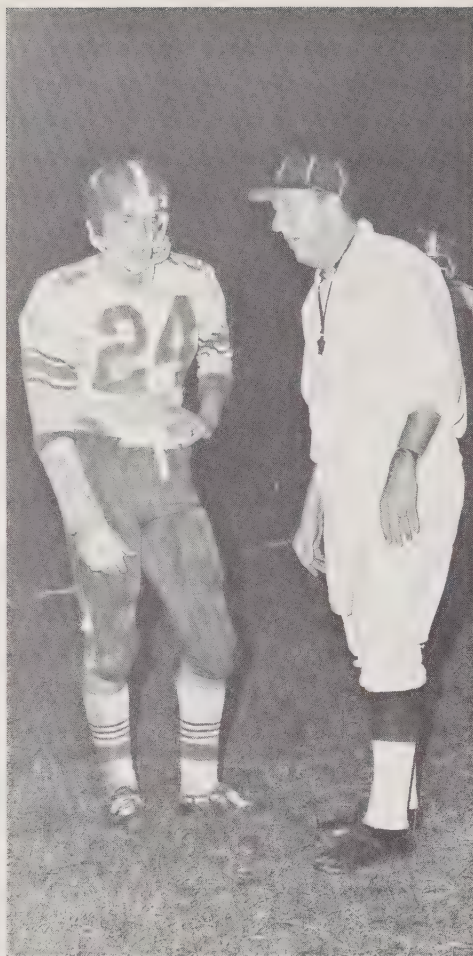

Coach Boswell confers with the players during a timeout.

Team Spirit Contributed to our Glorious Success

The T. Wingate Andrews football team boasted four especially outstanding players. Two of these players were chosen by a committee of coaches and officials to represent the conference on the All-Conference Team. The other two received honorable mentions for their fine efforts. Those making the All-Conference team were Bernard Collie, offensive blocking back and defensive linebacker, and David Ingold, offensive wingback and defensive halfback. Acey Spencer, offensive guard and defensive linebacker, and Donnie Jackson, offensive tailback and defensive halfback, received honorable mentions.

Another high spot of the team year included the sports day awards that recognized outstanding individuals within the team.

Ref asks Collie, "Are you sure about that?"

Players stack up for good luck.

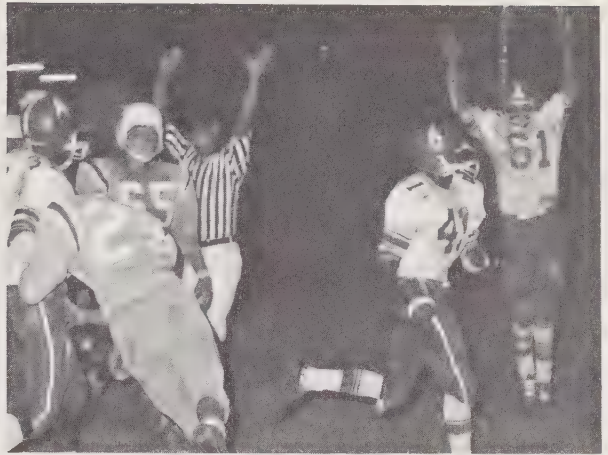

Donnie Jackson falls backward into the endzone for an Andrews touchdown.

Larry Davis sprints around the end for a valuable gain as Mike Lilly blocks.

Larry Davis steps in for the score.

Andrews' football coaches Bowman, Carden, and Boswell showed enthusiasm and patience throughout the most trying times of the Raiders.

Strenuous practice is needed before the next game.

Junior Varsity Team

The Andrews' Junior Varsity started off the season with a bang. In the first game against Morehead, Andrews mutilated their opponents by the score of 47 to 0. The mighty Raiders continued the season scoring 30 points or more in every game except two. They only allowed the opposing teams a total of 28 points during the entire season. The only game lost during the entire season was against Williams High School, ending the season with a record of 8 wins, 1 loss. This was an excellent record for a first-year team.

Raider Wrestlers Capture Victories

A hopeful year was fulfilled as the Andrews matmen captured victory after victory to boast a 10-6-1 record at the end of the season. Under the supervision of Coach Mike Lambeth, the team showed definite improvement from match to match. At the end of the season, it was apparent that a group of hopeful, nervous young men had progressed to confident, well co-ordinated wrestlers. Outstanding records were posted by Mark Anthony, Felix Setzer, Terry Wood, and Melvin Fair. Coach Lambeth was extremely pleased with the success of the team.

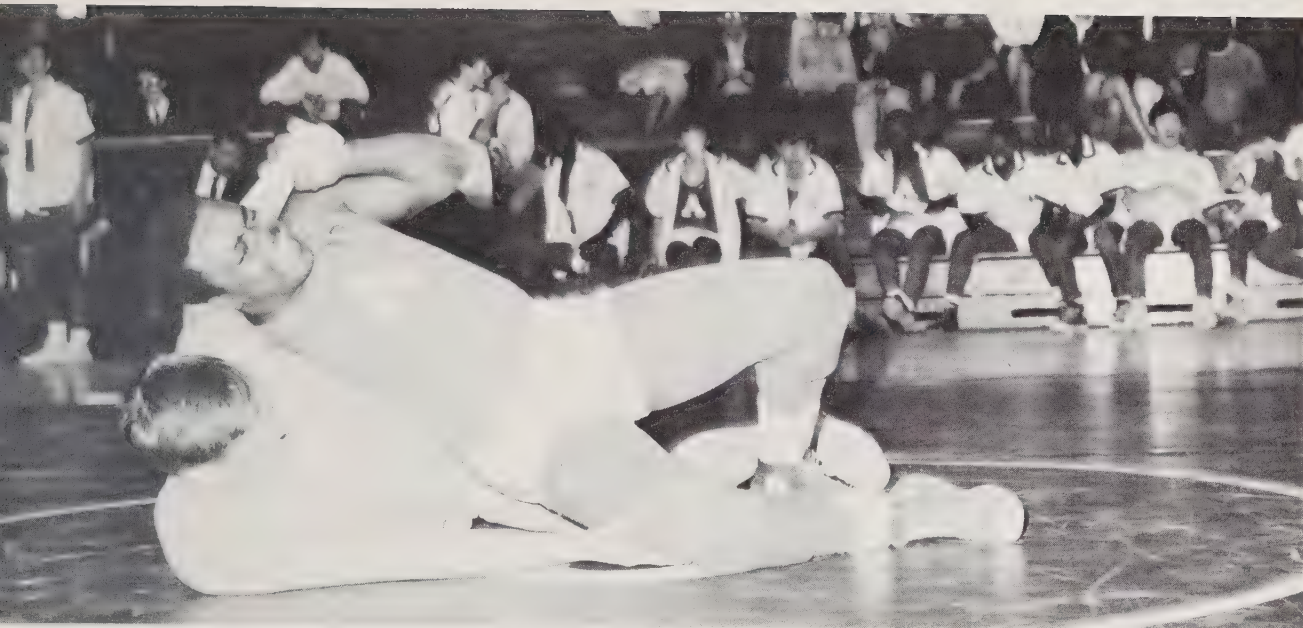

Next year's team will feel the loss of captain Mark Anthony and seniors Rick Lowe and Thomas Jones. However, the return of this year's experienced sophomores and juniors will lead the team on to another winning season.

Raiders

The Varsity Basketball team lost five heart-breakers by three points or less to finish the season with a satisfying record. These losses were especially disappointing because the opponents won on the free throw line. First stringers Bonny Jones, Roland Froneyberger, Caesar Harris, Wayne Varner, and Jimmy Sears placed emphasis on well-planned team-work rather than on a one man show. All of the players have a right to be proud of their efforts. Outstanding in play were Caesar Harris and Wayne Varner.

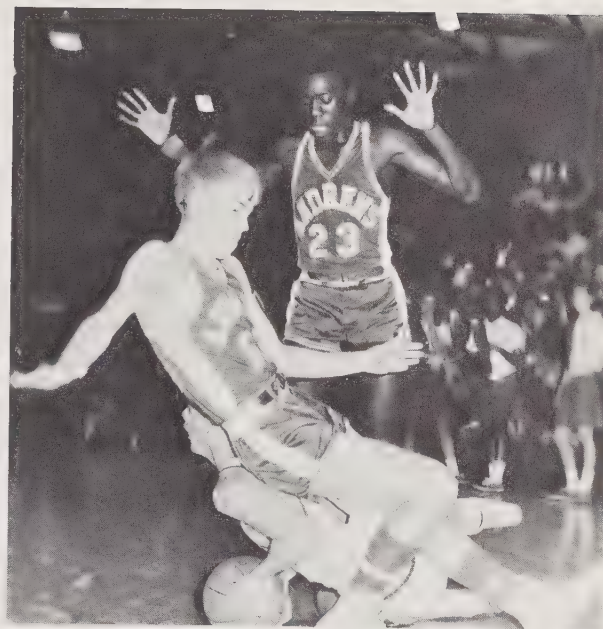

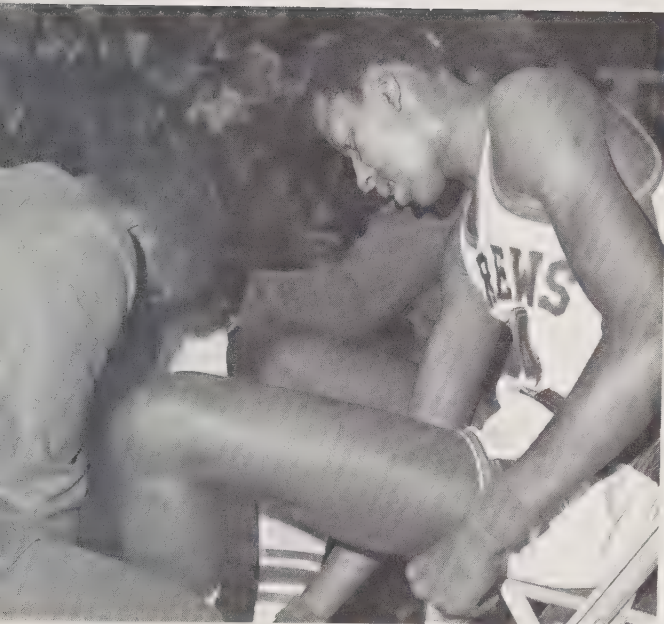

The ups and downs of our season were evident. At one point in the season, the Raiders suffered a four-game losing streak. This was finally broken by a victory over Mount Airy late in the season.

Season Successfully

In Andrews's first year, our "Baby Raiders" finished the basketball season with a fine record. The boys to really watch in the years to come are Chippy Miller, Jesse Ratliff, Milton Robins, and Reggie Lenden. During the 1968-1969 basketball season, the JV's were composed mainly of sophomores, so we can expect a really great Varsity in the years ahead. Morehead was the only team to defeat the JV twice.

Coach Carden, who coached the JV, attributed their success more to team work rather than individual talent. Chippy Miller and Mike Watson just about tied for high scorer with approximately fourteen points a game. Top rebounders were Jesse Ratliff and Milton Robins.

Chippy Miller moves in for two.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM: Row 1—Bonnie Crawford, co-captain; Miss Thomas, coach; Susan Cummings, co-captain.

Row 2—Collins, Johnson, Thibodeau, Marshall, Lightner, Hipps, Watlow, Spears, Collier, Michael, Sorrell, Harzier, Miller.

Karen Hipps, leading scorer, takes off with the ball.

FALL FESTIVAL QUEEN, JENNI CHURCH

Jenni Church is Crowned First

On Friday, November 8, 1968, after a hectic day of Fall Festival floatmaking, T.W.A. fans crowded the stands to witness the crowning of their new queen. Halftime activities began with the lovely procession of the Fall Festival Court. The girls were then escorted through the flowered archway and onto the field where Jenni Church was crowned by Superintendent Dean Pruette and presented with a dozen red roses. Miss Church's escort was Chad Miller.

Linda Christensen escorted by Wayne Sprye, Betty Ashworth escorted by Michael Legrande, and Sandra McCullough escorted by Henry McKay were the Senior Attendants. The Junior Attendant was Carla Vernon whose escort was David Wade. The Sophomore Attendant, Robbie Blue, was escorted by Max Miller.
